

Credential and Certification Program Update

NEW

LEGACY

LEVEL THREE Advanced Specialized Technical Expertise
DHC	Door & Hardware Consultant	DHSC	Door & Hardware Specification Consultant	ACSC	Access Control System Consultant
Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced product and code application knowledge and expertise skills proficient to detail, estimate and project manage large and complex projects and existing facility renovations 		Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced product and code application knowledge and expertise focused proficiency to write or edit CSI/DHI format specifications for doors, frames, hardware and electrified hardware systems on large and complex construction projects and existing facility renovations 		Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced product and code application knowledge and expertise specialized proficiency to design, specify, and oversee installation of small EAC systems supply doors and hardware and provide coordination of EAC systems on larger projects

LEVEL THREE Advanced Specialized Technical Expertise
AHC	Architectural Hardware Consultant	CDC	Certified Door Consultant	EHC	Electrified Hardware Consultant
Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced mechanical and electrified hardware product and code application knowledge and expertise intermediate knowledge and expertise of doors and frames proficiency to write or edit CSI/DHI format specifications for mechanical and electrified hardware skills proficient to detail, estimate and project manage large and complex projects and existing facility renovations 		Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced door and frame product and code application knowledge and expertise skills proficient to detail and estimate doors and frames proficiency to write or edit CSI/DHI format specifications for doors and frames for large and complex projects and existing facility renovations 		Certification earned by displaying the competence to provide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> advanced mechanical and electrified hardware product and code application knowledge and expertise intermediate knowledge and expertise of doors and frames understanding of small electronic access control systems proficiency to write or edit CSI/DHI format specifications for mechanical and electrified hardware skills proficient to detail, estimate and project manage large and complex projects and existing facility renovations

LEVEL TWO Intermediate Technical Competence
DHT	Door & Hardware Technician
Credential earned by displaying the competence on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> intermediate product and code application knowledge and expertise basic detailing, estimating, and project management skills on projects with intermediate level of complexity of occupancy type

LEVEL ONE Basic Technical Understanding
DHIA	Door & Hardware Industry Associate
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Certificate program to recognize individuals who have achieved a basic technical understanding of products and codes Targeted to newer industry members working with products in warehouse, administrative, or technical positions Associate designation appears on the certificate of completion only, not used as a credential Considered the first step for an individual to pursue a technical career in our industry

