Door Security + Safety

Door Security + Safety is the official magazine of DHI Door Security + Safety Professionals, a trade association proudly serving door security and safety professionals, and the dynamic companies they represent, in the non-residential construction industry.

THE AUDIENCE

Engage with the decision-makers shaping the future of the industry.

Our readers include distributors, sales agents, manufacturers, architects, specifiers, facility managers, fire marshals, and code officials – all deeply involved in every aspect of door, hardware, and security solutions for non-residential projects.

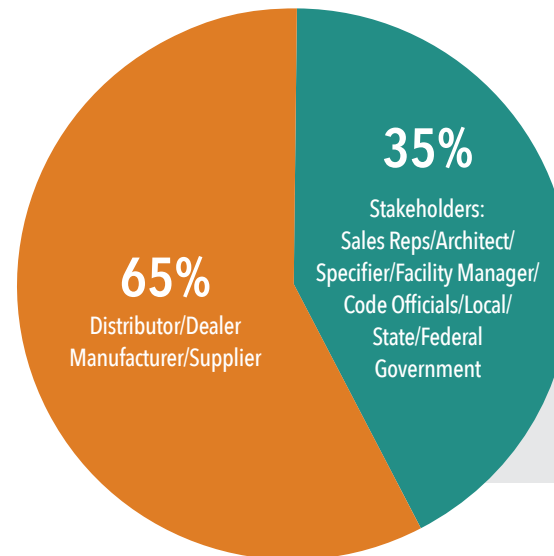

WHY ADVERTISE?

1. Reach the right people. Deliver your message directly to a highly qualified audience of industry professionals and purchasing influencers.
2. Expand your impact. No other publication reaches more stakeholders who specify, purchase, and recommend products like yours.
3. Exclusive access. Door Security + Safety is the official communication channel into the distribution network of this industry.
4. Trusted and action-driven. Our readers rely on our content, and they act on it. Advertising here means visibility that drives real engagement and measurable results.

READERSHIP HIGHLIGHTS

The industry's most engaged professionals look to Door Security + Safety to:

1. Stay ahead of evolving standards, practices, and industry trends.
2. Discover new products, services, and trusted vendors.
3. Gain expert insight into the challenges and opportunities shaping the industry.
4. Educate themselves, their teams, and their customers to maintain their leadership in the marketplace.

BUSINESS UPDATE
August AIA Architecture Billings Index Reports a Continued Decline
 The American Institute of Architects (AIA) reported continued weakness in its August Architecture Billings Index, which scored 47.2, marking another monthly decline. U.S. construction contracts have now fallen for 18 consecutive months, the longest slide in 15 years. Regional scores remained weak, with the South slipping to 49.8 and the West lowest at 43.3. SHI, AIA's Chief Economist Kermit Salier noted some optimism, citing four straight months of rising inquiries and stabilization in multifamily and commercial/residential sectors. A recent Federal Reserve interest rate cut could further ease conditions and help stimulate project activity.
 The Architect's Newspaper (09/24/23) Kristine Klein

U.S. Worker Compensation Posts Big Gain as Unions Flex Muscles
 A measure of what it costs U.S. businesses to employ workers increased 1.1% in the third quarter. The cost of labor has climbed by 1% or more for nine consecutive quarters. Prior to that, the last time compensation increased at least 1% a quarter was in 2006. Workers still have lots of leverage because of the tightest labor market in decades, and major unions have demonstrated their influence by winning more generous contracts in various industries.

Advertising Guide Terms & Conditions

AGENCY COMMISSION

Recognized ad agencies should make necessary adjustments unique to their customers when advertising in Door Security + Safety.

PAYMENT

NET 30 DAYS.

Credit Card payments: a 3 percent charge will be added on charges over $3,000. Payment for all space, production and position charges is due 30 days from the date of publisher's invoice. A finance charge of 1.5 percent per month will be assessed for all invoices over 30 days. Advertisers more than 30 days in arrears in any Door and Hardware Institute publication must pay outstanding invoices or submit cash with copy before current insertions can be accepted.

Digital advertisements for the DHI website and e-newsletter must be paid within 30 days of the invoice date. In case of non-receipt of payment within 30 days, DHI will discontinue running the ad.

By placement of the advertisement in any DHI publication, website or e-newsletter, advertiser and agency agree to be jointly liable for all payments due to DHI. Late charges incurred by the publisher caused by an advertiser will be passed on to the advertiser. Advertisers and their agencies are subject to standard credit inquiries that will be made by the publisher from whatever source necessary to certify that the advertiser/agency has good credit. Both advertiser and agency are equally responsible for payment of ads appearing in DHI's publications. Default by either party does not remove the burden of payment by remaining party. Publisher reserves the right to take all steps necessary to secure payment for advertising published, including but not limited to contacting the advertiser directly if its agency fails to make payment.

SHORT RATE AND REBATES

Advertisers will be short-rated if, within a 12-month period from the date of the first insertion, they do not use the amount of space upon which their billings have been based. Short rates will be based upon frequency earned against published rates.

PUBLISHER'S PROTECTIVE CLAUSE

In consideration of publication of an advertisement, the advertiser and the agency, jointly and severally, indemnify and hold harmless the Door and Hardware Institute, its officers, agents and employees against all expenses, including attorney's fees, damages and losses resulting from the publication of the advertisement, including but not limited to claims or suits for libel, violation of the right of privacy, copyright or patent infringement, and use of the product or services advertised, either proper or improper.

All advertisements are accepted and published on their presentation of the agency and advertiser that both are authorized to publish the entire contents of the material provided to DHI in the manner selected by the advertiser, be it print or electronic media. Advertisements and product information do not constitute an endorsement nor a DHI position concerning their suitability. The publisher reserves the right to reject any advertising in DHI publications, DHI website or e-newsletter. The publisher makes every effort to ensure suitable placement of advertising but assumes no responsibility in this regard.

All advertisements, including digital advertisements, placed in DHI publications must be accompanied by a valid insertion order specifying net advertising rate, size, color, position and information sufficient for proper identification of the advertisement by DHI production personnel. Requested positions are not guaranteed unless stated as a paid position. Contracts for multiple frequency discounts must be in place prior to the first insertion.

Publisher will not be bound by any terms and conditions printed on advertising agency or company insertion orders or copy instructions when those rates and conditions conflict with the Door Security + Safety rate card. Editorial subject to change without notice.

While publisher and printer will make every effort to correct inaccurate artwork, DHI is not liable for faulty materials provided by the agency or the advertiser. Such advertisements will be billed as run. The publisher does not guarantee changes or corrections after the closing date.

Publisher is not liable for delays in delivery and/or nondelivery of its publications in the event of any conditions beyond the control of the publisher that may affect production or shipping of its publications. Advertisers may not include product/service pricing or discount copy in advertisements in DHI publications, DHI website and e-newsletter.

CANCELLATIONS

Any contract or insertion order placed is non-cancelable by advertiser after the published close date for issues contracted. Special placements and cover positions are non-cancelable by advertiser. All cancellation requests must be made in writing by our published close and confirmed in writing by the DHI Sales Manager. If contracted advertising materials are not received by the published deadlines, existing artwork will be picked up. If no new advertising materials have been received or an existing advertisement cannot be picked up, advertiser is still responsible for the full invoice total for that ad as contracted.

No ad changes will be accepted after the material closing date unless the substituted ad is of like size and color. If new materials or artwork are not received by the advertising material deadline, the previous advertisement will be repeated.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Door Security + Safety welcomes articles from our volunteer authors on a variety of topics that are relevant to door and hardware professionals. Articles should be educational rather than promotional in nature. Product and company names may only be included within case studies, troubleshooting, and how-to articles where such details are necessary for the educational value of the reader. Companies that submit articles and also wish to place advertising within their article can do so for an additional fee.

Submissions should include a short biography that includes your name, job title, company and location, any professional credentials, and a professional headshot. Articles and inquiries should be sent to Al Rickard at arickard@dhi-editorial.org.

DHI Is Dedicated to Excellence

DHI – Door Security + Safety Professionals – is an association proudly serving door security and safety professionals and the dynamic companies they represent, in the non-residential construction industry. Through education, advocacy, accreditation and facilitated networking, we provide members with the collective intelligence to meet the security and safety needs of their customers.

Our membership is comprised of individuals and consultants who are involved in the important work of safely securing the built environment. DHI continually strives to be the voice of the door security + safety industry, representing distributors, manufacturers and sales representatives/agency firms, as well as architects, specifiers and contractors who rely on such professionals.

We look forward to working with you and helping you grow your business!
